

Andy Timmins is the American Feed Industry Association's chief financial officer and corporate treasurer. He joined AFIA in 2011, bringing with him 23 years of experience in finance, accounting and treasury, having worked in the real estate, energy and professional service industries throughout the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area. Timmins brings strong IT and process redesign leadership experience to AFIA. Timmins also serves on the Global Feed LCA Institute's board of directors.

Timmins joined AFIA from DCI Group, where he served as controller. Prior to DCI, Timmins served as the vice president and controller of Mission Residential and also worked for firms, including Carl M. Freeman Associates, the Rouse Company and the Charles E. Smith Companies.

Timmins holds economics and accounting degrees from the University of Maryland. He can be reached at (703) 558-3572.

Founded in 1909, the American Feed Industry Association (AFIA), based in Arlington, Va., is the world's largest organization devoted exclusively to representing the business, legislative and regulatory interests of the U.S. animal food industry and its suppliers. The organization's membership is comprised of over 650 domestic and international companies that represent the total feed industry—manufacturers of commercial and integrated feed and pet food, ingredient suppliers, pharmaceutical companies, industry support and equipment manufacturers. AFIA's members manufacture more than 75% of the feed and 70% of the non-whole grain ingredients used in the country. AFIA is also recognized as the leader on international industry developments, and holds membership in the International Feed Industry Federation (IFIF).
