

Biography for Lynette Tucker

Lynette Tucker is the American Feed Industry Association's meetings and events specialist. Tucker assists in planning AFIA meetings and events, partner educational programs, committee meetings, Board meetings, one-time events and webcasts.

She is responsible for sponsorships, site selection research, meeting room arrangements, speaker coordination, promotional materials, menus, tours, audio-visual equipment needs, signs, promotion, vendor contracts, hotel relationships and on-site management.

Prior to joining AFIA in July 2019, Tucker provided event management services and administrative and office management duties for small businesses and agencies. She has a long history of experience in meetings and administration, previously working for Plumblin Public Affairs, RML Strategies, Direct Design Communications, COSMOS Corporation and the Alabama Association for Justice.

Tucker holds a bachelor's degree in management and accounting from the University of the East Manila in the Philippines. She can be reached at (703) 558-3573.

Founded in 1909, AFIA, based in Arlington, Va., is the world's largest organization devoted exclusively to representing the business, legislative and regulatory interests of the U.S. animal food industry and its suppliers. The organization's membership is comprised of more than 680 domestic and international companies that represent the total feed industry — manufacturers of commercial and integrated feed and pet food, ingredient suppliers, pharmaceutical companies, industry support and equipment manufacturers. AFIA members manufacture more than 75 percent of the feed and 70 percent of the non-grain ingredients used in the country. AFIA is also recognized as the leader on international industry developments and holds membership in the International Feed Industry Federation.
