

Biography for Daisy Rodriguez

Daisy Rodriguez is the American Feed Industry Association's meetings and events coordinator. Rodriguez assists in planning AFIA meetings and events, partner educational programs, committee meetings, Board meetings, one-time events and webcasts.

She is responsible for all meeting registration-related functions, including: set-up, support and management of the registration technology system and on-site registration. She also serves as the primary contact for registration and exhibitor questions for all meetings.

Prior to joining AFIA in August 2019, Rodriguez provided administrative and event support for VersaTel Solutions, the Laurel Ridge Elementary School Parent Teacher Association, Road Runner/Time Warner Cable and the law office of Shapiro and Burson.

Rodriguez holds a bachelor's degree in government and politics and a paralegal certificate from George Mason University. She can be reached at (703) 650-0144.

Founded in 1909, AFIA, based in Arlington, Va., is the world's largest organization devoted exclusively to representing the business, legislative and regulatory interests of the U.S. animal food industry and its suppliers. The organization's membership is comprised of more than 680 domestic and international companies that represent the total feed industry — manufacturers of commercial and integrated feed and pet food, ingredient suppliers, pharmaceutical companies, industry support and equipment manufacturers. AFIA members manufacture more than 75 percent of the feed and 70 percent of the non-grain ingredients used in the country. AFIA is also recognized as the leader on international industry developments and holds membership in the International Feed Industry Federation.
